One Call, One Scam, ₹24.5 Lakh Gone!

A retired BSF officer from Delhi was recently duped of ₹24.5 lakh in a sophisticated online trading scam. On August 9, 2024, he filed a complaint after being contacted via VoIP calls by two men posing as financial advisors. They lured him with promises of massive returns from block trades, IPOs, and share market investments. The fraudsters, Ravi Verma (30) and Neeraj Verma (33) from Faridabad, operated under a fake firm named Naitik Traders and convinced the officer to transfer funds across multiple accounts. After months of investigation, both were arrested in May 2025, with police recovering two mobile phones, three bank kits, and a cheque book used in the scam. The duo had even secured fake GST and Udyam registrations to appear legitimate. What seemed like a golden investment opportunity turned out to be a well-orchestrated trap. This case serves as a harsh reminder: in the world of finance, one moment of misplaced trust can erase years of hard-earned security.

THE CRIMSON STRIKE: A TALE OF COURAGE AND RESOLVE

On a quiet April morning in Pahalgam, peace shattered as a brutal terrorist attack claimed 26 innocent lives. The nation grieved, but it did not falter. In a high-security command room, India's top military leaders launched Operation Sindoor — a mission named after the sacred red mark symbolizing courage and sacrifice.

Before dawn on May 7, Indian jets roared into action, striking nine terrorist camps across Pakistan and PoK. The Sawai Nala camp, linked to the Pahalgam attack, was among the first destroyed. Pakistan retaliated, but India's defense systems held firm, powered by indigenous tech and unbreakable will. As dawn broke, the message was clear: India stands strong, not just with power, but with purpose.
