In its latest statement, the India Meteorological Department said that the current spell of rain is being driven by two active weather systems, a depression over the southeast Arabian Sea and a well-marked low-pressure area over the southwest Bay of Bengal. "Under the influence of these systems, thunderstorms accompanied by lightning and gusty winds reaching 40–50 kmph are very likely over Maharashtra between October 22 and 26, 2025. Fairly widespread moderate to heavy rainfall activity is expected across Konkan and Madhya Maharashtra during this period," the IMD noted.

Indicating that more rainfall is likely, the weather bureau extended its yellow alert for Mumbai and neighbouring districts until Tuesday morning. The advisory came after continuous spells of rain for five straight days, with moderate to heavy showers sweeping across Mumbai and Thane since midweek.

With the monsoon retreat delayed due to active weather systems, Mumbai is likely to witness a wet end to October. Civic authorities have urged residents to stay alert, avoid waterlogged areas, and follow official weather advisories as the city continues to experience unseasonal rainfall under changing atmospheric conditions.

The IMD has forecast that heavy rainfall activity will continue in the region at least until Tuesday morning, with Mumbai, Thane, Palghar, and Raigad placed under a yellow alert due to possible thunderstorms, gusty winds, and lightning. Although no formal warnings are in place after Tuesday, light rain is expected to continue until the end of October.

For the fifth consecutive day, intermittent spells of moderate rainfall swept through Mumbai and Thane on Saturday, even as the yellow alert remained in effect. The spell brought temporary relief from humidity but also caused localised waterlogging in parts of the city. The India Meteorological Department (IMD) extended the alert, signalling that more showers were expected until Tuesday morning.

After heavy showers of over 50 mm of rain lashed the island city division in a one-hour window on Friday night, residents of Mumbai, Thane, Navi Mumbai, and the western suburbs woke up to overcast skies on Saturday. Some areas experienced light to moderate rainfall throughout the day, though no major disruption was reported.
